

Introducing Yourself

Introducing yourself in Serbian involves more than just saying your name. A typical introduction might be: "Zovem se Ana" (My name is Ana) or "Ja sam Ana" (I am Ana). It's common to follow this up with where you're from: "Dolazim iz Amerike" (I come from America) or what you do: "Ja sam student" (I am a student). This gives you a simple but powerful way to connect with locals or other learners. This lesson dives deep into self-introduction phrases, including how to ask someone their name ("Kako se zoveš?") and respond politely. You'll also explore pronouns, basic sentence structure, and phrases to use in both casual and formal situations. With practice, you'll be able to confidently introduce yourself and make new connections in Serbian.
