

Food & Drink

Food and drink are big parts of Serbian culture and language. Learning words like "hleb" (bread), "sir" (cheese), "voda" (water), "kafa" (coffee), and "supa" (soup) helps you navigate menus, markets, and restaurants. Serbian meals are hearty and rich, so knowing how to ask for or describe food is very useful for travelers and locals alike. In this lesson, you'll learn essential food vocabulary and common phrases for ordering like "Želim da naručim..." (I'd like to order...). You'll also practice understanding prices, quantities, and preferences. Sample dialogues will walk you through a restaurant scenario so you can interact smoothly when eating out in Serbia.
